

100 Years Ahead

They always said, “the future will be bright, John.” I didn’t believe them. I was right not to believe them. I don’t want to sound pessimistic, but our planet is looks like one giant wasteland of pollution and rubbish. Ironically, they said, “Global warming will warm up the planet.” I laugh every time I think of this. Warm? I’m freezing. I rarely see the sun anymore. All I see is thick black smog; Air travel was suspended years ago. The icing on the cake: Elon Musk Jr is still stuck on Mars unable to return home. Yep, this is 2119.
